

Getting Ready for School

There are lots of useful websites to help parents get their children ready for school. Click on the links below to find out more.

The charity Parentkind has produced a useful guide for parents to get children ready for starting school. This is a big step for parents too and the guide provides useful tips to help parents navigate this journey.

The website startingreception.co.uk contains a wealth of information for parents to help prepare their child for starting school. This includes practical tips and advice on basic skills to practice over the coming months. The site also contains links to lots of other useful websites.

The Kent Community Health Trust has produced a leaflet with information about starting school and local services on offer to support parents and children.

The BBC Cbeebies website contains lots of useful information about starting school as well as links to programmes for children which focus on starting school.

Finally, don't forget to check out our school website www.godinton.kent.sch.uk and the page set up for parents of our new 2026 starters. Additional content will be added in the run up to September.
